Foster's Forecast.

Copyrighted 1891 by W. T. Foster.

St. Joseph, Mo., March 11.—My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from March 12th to 16th and the next will reach the Pacific Coast about the 17th, cross the western mountains by close of 18th, the great central valleys from 19th to 21st and the Eastern States about the 22nd.

This storm will be a wide extent, a dangerous storm especially in and east of the Mississippi Valley.

The warm wave will cross the western mountains about the 17th, the great central valleys about the 19th and the Eastern States about the 21st. The cool wave will cross the western mountains about the 20th, the great central valleys about the 22nd and the Eastern States about the 24th. The cool wave will be most severe in the great central valleys about 21st to 22nd and will cause blizzards in some places.

To-Day's Sport.

Yesterday morning a postal card was received from Homer Thaxter to this effect: "Our boys are shooting like fends. Today's first score was 440, second 459. Calusha led with 93, Mayo 90, G. C. Thaxter 93, Cowing 90, Spencer 89, H. D. Thaxter 85. They are betting 7 to 1 on us, but we are not yet out of the woods."

Yesterday afternoon a dispatch was received to the effect that the team had scored 456 and 458. If the boys do as well today they will carry home the prize.

Piano Lessons.

Miss Sophia Jacobs who has been studying music under the instruction of Prof. F. Zech of San Francisco, is now prepared to give lessons to a limited number of pupils.

For particulars inquire at residence.

A HORRIBLE TRAGEDY.

Mrs. A. Eggleston Murdered in Antelope Valley.

Thursday afternoon the body of Mrs. A. Eggleston, and aged widow living in Antelope Valley, half a mile from Coleville, Mono county, Cal., was found lying over a woodbox with her head jammed into a five pound lard bucket, and over two dozen knife wounds on her head, face and throat. The walls and furniture were spattered with blood and the room bore every evidence of a terrible struggle.

On the table was a bottle containing some whisky, and as some Indians had been seen around the place, it is thought they came to the house asking for food, which was given them. They then probably took advantage of the situation, as the lady was alone, demanding whisky. Becoming fired with this they murdered the old lady in cold blood, and made their escape before their awful deed was found out.

The lady has been a widow for some years, and was a sister to A. Schooley, who in company with Mr. Ames the undertaker and Mr. Black, the Coroner, brought the body to Carson last night for burial.

The funeral will take place from the Boston Bakery today at 2 o'clock. This is the second member of the family who has been murdered. Mrs. Schooley having lost a brother in this manner in Mason Valley some years ago.

100,000 Unemployed.

The Examiner of Friday gives a long account of a novel project. A delegation of unemployed are to start from Los Angeles in a few days for Washington, picking other men who have no work to perform, or by swelling the number to 100,000. This mighty throng of men who want nothing more than employment, that they may earn bread for their wives and children, will march into Washington, form a hollow square around the Capitol, send for their representatives and demand legislation in favor of the laboring classes, stipulating eight hours a day and fair wages.

They will also demand legislation which will in effect put more money in circulation, and be favorable to silver.

They do not state what they will do if their demands are not complied with, but it is safe to predict that they will not take it very good naturally.

These men propose to make very moderate demands, but they are determined and earnest, and sanguine of meeting with success. What will occur if they do not get satisfaction in some tangible shape will be difficult to more than outline.

A Pretty Story Spoiled.

The Carson APPEAL publishes a story current here in the early part of the Winter to the effect that a destitute person was refused credit for a sack of flour by a local grocery firm. The man on being refused was said to have deliberately shouldered a sack and left the premises. The Sheriff after hearing the circumstances paid for the flour and refused to arrest the man.

This story was found to be a fake at the time, and was therefore never published and Sheriff Quirk authorizes the statement that no such incident occurred. It was a well known fact, however, to Sheriff Quirk's acquaintances that if such a case had become known to him that he would have acted precisely as the story credits him with having done.—Enterprise.

The APPEAL was not in a position to ascertain the facts in the case, but it was a good story and published for what it was worth.

Sandow May Exhibit Here.

Eugene Sandow, the strong man passed Reno on Thursday, en route to San Francisco, where he will give public and private exhibitions of his phenomenal strength. Manager Piper will endeavor to engage the modern Hercules to give an exhibition of his wonderful muscular power at the Opera House. While in New York city it was a fad of fashionable young ladies to hold private receptions at which Sandow displayed his splendid physique and performed marvelous muscular feats.—Enterprise.

Manager Piper will also probably secure him for one night in the Opera House in this city.

Matzos.

Parties desiring matzos will please leave their orders at A. Jacob's tailor shop.

There is much complaint among the orcharders east of Fresno that the birds are picking off the apricot and peach buds to such an extent that they will greatly injure the fruit crop. Some of the farmers have taken to shooting the birds, thus scaring from the orchards what they do not kill.

A landslide at the foot of Portland Heights, at the corner of Thirteenth and Jackson streets, Portland, Or., Thursday, struck the residence of Charles Cardinell, and lifting it from its foundation carried it two blocks, throwing it over an embankment into the street below. Two neighboring cottages were torn from their foundations.

The party organized at Post Falls, Idaho, for the rescue of the cook of the Carlin party, the unfortunate George Colgate, is on its return journey down the Clearwater river, and is expected to reach Kendrick within a day or two, having been out over sixty days. They suffered many hardships but were unable to discover a trace of the deserted cook.
